Children's author and poet Rosie J. Pova will visit our school on the above date. Pova is the author of Cibyls Award nominated picture book, Sarah's Song, which Kirkus Reviews called " . . . a heartwarming book." It's a story about a granddaughter and the special bond she shares with her grandma through singing and dancing. If I Weren't With You, is a picture book about a mother bear's reassurance of love and security as her and her cub explore the forest and have an intriguing conversation. Rosie also authored a humorous middle grade reader titled Hailey Queen Pranking Makes Perfect: The Alien Encounter about fourth grade prankster Hailey who feels like an alien in her own world until an alien comes into her life and shows her what it means to be human.

Rosie J. Pova is a prolific children's writer and the founder of two writing contest for children: KWEST and Haiku Hype. She is also a writing instructor in the Dallas ISD through the Writer's Garret.

Ms. Pova loves to encourage kids to get in touch with their creativity and to inspire them to dream big and follow their passions.
